Arris Construction & Management Company is located in Batesville, Miss. and is owned and operated by Lyndell Carter. The firm offers services that include but are not limited to concrete flatwork, clearing, and grubbing, and excavation. The firm has a full team of 25 employees and takes pride in offering quality service with competitive pricing with a warm atmosphere.

Carter's father, Joe C. Carter, played an important role in influencing him to get into the construction industry. "I grew up in Morgan City, Miss., where my dad worked in construction and eventually started his own business building, remodeling, and performing site work. I helped him build levies and worked on heavy equipment from the age of 16. This was truly an inspiration for me," said Carter. However, he initially started out as a conservation officer before starting his firm in 1998.

With over 40 years of experience, Carter has honed his skills and been able to work with prime contractors such as W.G. Yates & Sons and Murphy & Sons. Some of the projects completed by the firm included a concrete project with South Panola School District, concrete padding for Ole Miss, and a demolition job for the Mississippi Home Corporation. Currently, Arris Construction is working on a commercial building and concrete pad for school buses in Coahoma County. Future work may entail flatwork concrete and hauling materials for a bridge project in Kosciusko.

Carter hopes to make an impact in his state by stimulating the economy by employing people who can then spend locally. He also explained what makes his company unique. "My firm delivers a good product in a professional manner but most of all my customers are always right," said Carter.

Although Carter works in various capacities, he enjoys being an estimator and networking the most. He said that this is a time he can invest in getting to know his customers and create win- win situations.

As a small business owner, he leaves a word of advice to DBEs and small businesses alike. "I think it's vital to be true to your word because this is the best kind of advertising. I can say that the majority of my business comes from word of mouth," said Carter.

A MISSISSIPPI SUCCESS STORY

Morgan Dean, Inc.

Margaret Dean is the proud owner of Morgan Dean, Inc., located in Clinton, Miss. and offers engineering services with a focus in the fields of civil and structural engineering. The firm and staff are licensed in states throughout the southeast with clients in both the public and private sector. The vision of the engineering company focuses on development of long-term relationships with clients built on collaboration, accessibility, efficient scheduling, and cost-effective designs. Morgan Dean is also certified to work in Mississippi and Louisiana; certified Woman Owned Small Business (WOSB) with the Small Business Administration (SBA) and a certified Women-Owned Business Enterprise with the Mississippi Development Authority (MDA).

Dean's twenty years of experience in both the public and private sector includes state and local governments, and other consulting engineering firms. This has provided an array of opportunities to partner with other contractors in the capacity as a subcontractor and prime contractor. One of the largest contracts obtained by Morgan Dean entailed a scour evaluation for MDOT. Currently, the firm is providing map revisions for FEMA (private clients) as well as bridge hydraulic recommendations for MDOT. In reference to future projects, Morgan Dean anticipates additional MDOT work providing engineering review services.

Since starting her firm in 2020, Dean said the amount of work she obtained doubled each year by 30 to 50 percent. She also mentioned that being a certified DBE and being highlighted in the MDOT Supportive Services newsletter helped her to market her business. "After being featured in the newsletter, I was able to connect and work with other subcontractors, and eventually obtained a hydraulic master contract with MDOT," explained Dean.

Dean said that owning a successful small business means doing something she loves while earning a living. In addition, she hopes to be an example for others, particularly women, to provide them the confidence that they can step out and become business owners.

Establishing a business is the first step but ensuring that it is sustainable involves a lot more. Dean said she strives to work hard and stay humble as a successful small business owner.

OSHA Safety Tip of the Month!

Back Over Safety Tips

A back over incident occurs when a backing vehicle strikes a worker who is standing, walking, or kneeling behind the vehicle. These incidents can be prevented. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, over 70 workers died from back over incidents in 2011. These kinds of incidents can occur in different ways.

How do back over incidents occur?

- Back over accidents can happen for a variety of reasons. Drivers may not be able to see a worker in their blind spot. Workers may not hear backup alarms because of other worksite noises or because the alarms are not functioning. A spotter assisting one truck may not see another truck behind him. Workers riding on vehicles may fall off and get backed over. Drivers may assume that the area is clear and not look in the direction of travel. Sometimes, it is unclear why a worker was in the path of a backing vehicle. A combination of factors can also lead to back over incidents.

What can be done to prevent back over incidents?

- Many solutions exist to prevent back over incidents. Drivers can use a spotter to help them back up their vehicles. Video cameras with in-vehicle display monitors can give drivers a view of what is behind them. Proximity detection devices, such as radar and sonar, can alert drivers to objects that are behind them. Tag-based systems can inform drivers when other employees are behind the vehicle and can alert employees when they walk near a vehicle equipped to communicate with the tag worn by the employee. On some work sites, employers can create internal traffic control plans, which tell the drivers where to drive and can reduce the need to back up. In some cases, internal traffic control plans can also be used to separate employees on foot from operating equipment.
- Training is another tool to prevent back over incidents. Blind spots behind and around vehicles are not immediately obvious to employees on foot. By training employees on where those blind spots are and how to avoid being in them, employers can prevent some back over incidents

WHAT IS A MICROLOAN?

The microloan program provides loans up to $50,000 to help small businesses and certain not-for-profit childcare centers start up and expand. The average microloan is about $13,000. SBA provides funds to specially designated intermediary lenders, which are nonprofit community-based organizations with experience in lending as well as management and technical assistance. These intermediaries administer the Microloan program for eligible borrowers.

Am I eligible?

Each intermediary lender has its own lending and credit requirements. Generally, intermediaries require some type of collateral as well as the personal guarantee of the business owner.

How do I use a microloan?

Microloans can be used for a variety of purposes that help small businesses expand. Use them when you need less than $50,000 to rebuild, re-open, repair, enhance, or improve your small business.

Examples include:

- Working capital
- Inventory
- Supplies
- Furniture
- Fixtures
- Machinery
- Equipment

Proceeds from an SBA microloan cannot be used to pay existing debts or to purchase real estate.

What do I need to apply?

Microloans are available through certain nonprofit, community-based organizations that are experienced in lending and business management assistance. Individual requirements will vary.

To apply for a microloan, work with an SBA-approved intermediary in your area. SBA-approved lenders make all credit decisions and set all terms for your microloan.

Open Desk

Need a Temporary Desk or Office in Jackson?

Well the MDOT Supportive Services office is available. You can use the Wi-Fi to connect to the internet, copy, send and receive fax, make calls, print documents and review MDOT, State Aid and LPA prints all for free. Just call or stop by between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

For more information contact Lauren Collins at \(601\) 572-1002. The thoughts were that this might get more people into the office and ultimately reviewing plans.
